

Knott Circuit Judge To Study Decision In Mining Hassle

Judge John Chris Cornett, Knott Circuit Squire, has taken into consideration a motion by the defense to dismiss charges brought forth against a strip mining company by two Knott County landowners.

In a hearing Tuesday in Cornett's chambers at Hindman attorneys for the defense asked the judge to dismiss the case because the action was aimed at seeking a new Appellate Court look at the strip-mine hassle.

Leroy and Helen Martin, of the Lost Creek section of Knott County, the plaintiffs in the case, filed the suit against Kentucky Oak Mining Company seeking to stop their stripping operations on the grounds that the mining damages the land in a manner not anticipated in the original agreement between the two parties.

Martin, leader in the group known as "The Appalachian Group to Save Land and People," concedes that the company has mining rights on his land but not by strip and auger methods.

Attorneys for Martin said that points not yet touched on by Appellate Court would be presented and added that the court had been known to reverse itself when convinced it had been wrong.

Judge Cornett had earlier permitted the state, through the attorney general's office to intervene as friend of the court on the side of Martin and other landowners.

Bruce Stephens, Jr., representing Kentucky River Coal Corp., resisted that motion on the grounds that the Commonwealth has no interest in a "purely private affair."

Judge Cornett answered this by saying he was always willing to listen to competent advice on any issue. With that in mind, he said he would welcome the views of David A. Schneider, an assistant attorney general.

The state had attempted to intervene in a case before Perry Circuit Judge Don A. Ward several weeks ago but Ward ruled that the Commonwealth had no right to take part in a case unless it involved public streams, roads, etc.

It is also learned in the case that the mineral rights on Martin's property were sold in 1905 under a "Broad Form Deed".

These deeds give the coal operator the right to mine coal on the property by any method. Past court decisions have upheld the validity of the deeds.

Martin is asking in the case for a judgment stating the following: 1. the defendant has no right to mine coal by the strip and auger method. 2. Other methods can be used if the right to strip the coal is upheld. 3. If proven that strip and auger mining is legal in this case, prohibit such until adequate legislation is passed requiring restoration of land. 4. The plaintiffs further ask that any mining method which destroys large portions of the surface be stopped.

Judge Cornett said he would render a decision in the case on November 27.

If the motion by the defense is denied, attorneys will have 10 days in which to file an answer and the full case will be heard.

SBA Representative Explains Loan Grants

A representative of the Small Business Administration, John W. Ireland of Louisville, told a group of Hazard business people Tuesday that anyone who has been forced to re-locate in the urban renewal area is eligible for a SBA loan.

Speaking at the City Hall to businessmen who own property on the Liberty, North Main and High Streets urban renewal projects, he continued by saying that the only businesses which are not eligible are charitable organizations.

Mr. Ireland was sent to Hazard from the Louisville branch of the Small Business Administration at the request of Mayor Willie Dawahare.

Ireland said the purpose of SBA loans is to make the service available to businessmen at a low interest rate. The interest rate on SBA loans at the present time is 3 7/8 per cent which can be repaid over a period of 20 years.

Ireland stated that in the original SBA loan plan any gambling establishment or a place of business which receives fifty per cent or more of its income from alcoholic beverages is not eligible for a loan. But under the relocation on the urban renewal plan they are eligible.

According to the SBA official an application can be processed and will be either passed or rejected within thirty days after everything is in the Louisville office and if the local urban renewal project has an execution date.

"We can process an application even though the execution date has not been set," commented Ireland, "but we are not allowed to 'ok' or 'reject' the measure until the execution date has been set."

A business will be allowed up to 33 1/3 per cent upgrade on the present value of his property and equipment from the SBA. As an example, if a business is worth $30,000, then the owner may borrow $40,000 from the SBA.

The money the owner receives from the urban renewal project must be put into the new business before he can obtain the new loan according to Ireland.

Only businesses, and not home owners, are eligible for loans from the Small Business Administration.

Jaycees To Sell Christmas Paper

The Hazard Jaycees will launch their first sale of Christmas gift wrapping paper during the month of November. The door-to-door sales will be conducted throughout the city between 6:30 and 9:30 o'clock on certain specified evenings. The proceeds derived from the sale will be used by the Jaycees for their annual Christmas Program.

The gift packages sell for $1.00 a package and include three (3) rolls of very attractive additions to your gift wrapping supplies.

Approximately 40 local Jaycees are scheduled to take part in the sale and every person in need of Christmas wrapping paper is urged to buy from the Jaycees. Anyone desiring to buy paper prior to the designated evenings may contact any member of the local Jaycee Club for the wrapping paper.

The Jaycees ask you to buy the wrapping paper, so that someone less fortunate than yourself, may have a happy Christmas Season.

Vicco Chief Warns Residents

The Vicco Volunteer Fire Department has been called out twice this week due to trash burning.

One fire, in Sassafras, was out of control when the fire department arrived. The other fire was in the north city limits of Vicco.

Fire Chief, Hagan Davidson, has asked that all Vicco residents not burn any form of trash until after 4:00 p.m. He has also asked that all residents remove possible fire hazards from their home.

Napier Boosters Meet, Discuss Debt And New Stadium Seats

The M. C. Napier Boosters Club met last night at the school with the year's biggest crowd on hand and three major programs worked out.

The main objective of the meeting that a new concession stand will be erected on the field with the blocks that are received by the county board of education from a sporting goods company for $2600.00 on the Napier Athletic Department.

Napier principal Paul Colwell told the gathering that a payment had been made on the account and some merchandise which was purchased for the football team would be returned because it was in no condition to use.

The bill should read $1800.00 instead of the amount received by the county board.

The Boosters Club also agreed to start a project to construct new concrete seats on the football field.

It was agreed to sell pledges for blocks at $25 per block to finance construction. A check this morning showed that pledges totaling 900 blocks had already been taken by the club.

Plans call for the seats to be built in the spring after the baseball tourney.

It was also learned at the Federal Officials To Discuss Courthouse

Federal and county officials will meet in Hazard next week with W. D. Johnson Construction Company officials to set a completion date on the new Perry County Courthouse and to begin making plans for dedication ceremonies.

According to reports, the completion date will be re-set for the first week in February because of difficulties confronted by the construction company. The new structure was tentatively scheduled for completion on December 1, 1965.

Eversole School Selected For Pilot Project

The introduction into American elementary schools of what have been called "genuine" services has been a relatively recent development. The need for these services, as is true of any educational development, is rooted in both concern for the child and his development and a concern for society and for the highest possible efficiency of school as an agency of this society.

This year, the Roy G. Eversole Elementary School has been selected to participate in a pilot program involving guidance services in the elementary school. Johnny Leveridge is assigned to this school as a full time Guidance Counselor.

The Roy G. Eversole School is but one of seven involved in the Pilot Program throughout the state of Kentucky. The program which has been set up for two years, is completely financed by the state and federal government.

The guidance program at Roy G. Eversole Elementary has been designed with the needs of all the pupils in the school in mind. One of the greatest needs of the pupils recognized is that boys and girls need to mature in their understanding, their acceptance, and their sense of responsibility regarding themselves and relating to others. Without these three conditions no person can be his best, nor can he live his best with his fellows. Much of this understanding, acceptance, and responsibility comes from the proper arrangement of relations with others. It is necessary for children to mature in learning how to make wise choices, how to plan their lives sensibly and how to solve their problems in a rational manner and also with a high sense of moral values.

Guidance provides an environment in which every child can grow into a socially desirable, happy and wholesome personality. It encourages the child to develop traits of self-direction, self-control, and self-appraisal.

Guidance in the elementary school then is concerned with the following things:

1. A service for all children.
2. A planned program of specified and identifiable guidance services.
3. Prevention of group or individual problems.
4. Choice point counseling.

Guidance in the elementary school is not a modification of secondary school guidance. It is a program for children based upon the needs of the pupils at this maturity level.

The emphasis of guidance services at the elementary level are on early identification of pupils intellectual, emotional, social, and physical characteristics; development of his talent; diagnosis of his learning difficulties, if any; and early use of available resources to meet his needs.

The elementary school guidance function is an integral part of the total school guidance program, sharing with all levels certain common goals. The services provided by the guidance program are: Pupil inventory, information service, counseling, consultative service, testing, orientation placement, follow-up and research.

PCAC Chairman Says All Meetings Open To Public

Mr. Robert Rader, chairman of the Perry County Advisory Committee, reminded citizens of Perry County today that all of the Community Action meetings and other meeting held through the PCAC are open to the public and urges everyone to attend.

Mr. Rader stated that he received a letter from Sidney H. Woolner of the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington stating that some Community Action Agencies held meetings which are closed to the public.

In this case such meetings has led to a lack of confidence in these agencies said Woolner.

In a letter to all community action agencies Woolner urged the committees to open the meetings to the public.

Although all meetings have been opened to the public in Perry County in the past, Mr. Rader wants to remind each citizen that everyone is urged to attend these meetings.

FD To Cancel Ambulance Service

Hazard Fire Chief, Lawrence Sizemore, has announced that effective Friday, November 12, the Hazard Fire Department will no longer answer ambulance calls in the city or county.

In giving an explanation, Sizemore had this to say, "The Perry County Rescue Squad was formed in 1962 by Hazard firemen and other interested persons. In the summer of this year the H.F.D. became a separate organization from the P.C.R.S. and formed what is now known as the Fire Department Emergency Squad."

Sizemore continued, "We feel that with all the equipment and personnel the P.C.R.S. now has, it can handle all calls in the city and county. The Fire Department ambulance will be used only when firemen are injured or killed in line of duty. I would like to commend the P.C.R.S. for the fine job they are now doing for Hazard and Perry County. We will still endeavor to protect the citizens of Hazard with complete fire protection."

Mining Congress Meets In Pittsburgh

The program committee for the 1966 American Mining Congress Coal Convention met yesterday in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, with more than sixty leaders from the coal industry and the coal mining equipment manufacturing industry.

William B. Sturgill, a consultant from Hazard, attended the conference which included sessions on water and air pollution and land reclamation.

The 1966 AMC Coal Convention will be held in Pittsburgh May 8-11. It will attract some 3000 coal operators and equipment manufacturers from all parts of the United States and the world.

On Veterans Day, we proudly salute the veterans of all wars, and pledge ourselves ever to strive to uphold and to practice the democratic principles for which they have given so much.

HILL TALK

By Margaret Medaris
Monday night, November 8, Parents Visitation night was held at Hazard High School. The purpose was to allow parents to follow their children's schedule and the teachers' questions concerning their children's studies. After Mr. John C. Stringer welcomed the visitors and Mrs. Maxwell Barret, President of the FTA talked about the membership drive, 197 parents were present and 50 new members joined PTA. The parents attended ten minute classes in the subjects their children are taking.

As part of the Distributive Education program at Hazard High the D.E. Club is formed each year. The local club is part of the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA). The purposes of D.E. are to offer a program of instruction in merchandising, marketing, and management and to offer vocational training in marketing and merchandising goods and services leading to occupations in retailing, risk bearing, advertising, financing, wholesaling, storing, transportation and manufacturing. The students receive group instruction in school in general marketing and distributing and individual instruction in specific areas. They also work part time in an approved distribution occupation.

The club furthers these purposes by providing DE students with an opportunity to participate in group activities and compete with youth who have similar interests and objectives. A "show-window" for student achievement, progress, and leadership development. Rewards for the student's full participation in the total D.E. program.

An opportunity for the exchange of ideas on the local, state, and national levels.

A means of attracting students interested in distribution as a career to the D.E. program. An organized, formal channel through which business can financially support D.E. programs on the local, state, and national levels.

For mental and physical health through satisfactory social and recreational activities. DE students with an opportunity for group service to the community. The local chapter is sponsored by Mr. John Quillen. Officers are Jerry Dale Peavley, President; Joe Miller, Vice-President; Ann Laura Combs, Secretary; Dexter Melton, Treasurer; and Greg Peters, Reporter. They sponsored a "boat in the Homecoming parade."

ASK ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I was struck by the letter from the woman whose husband had life-like dreams and limped around all day after dreaming he had injured his foot. To those who haven't had first-hand experience the letter probably sounded funny.

But it isn't funny, Ann. My father had life-like dreams and for years mother put up with a series of strange experiences which resulted in many sleepless nights.

One night Dad dreamed he was in a supermarket. He got out of bed, grabbed the chair by the wooden arms, pushed it around the room, collected the alarm clock, books and magazines from the bedside table and the framed pictures from the dresser. He even took money from his wallet to pay for the "purchases."

Dad has kicked himself out of bed playing football and pulled down the drapes while blocking a pass. Once he injured his hand striking an imaginary intruder. (He hit the wall.) The day he hit mother was the day she ordered twin beds. Strangely enough he hasn't done much real-life dreaming since. Maybe this could be the solution for the wife who wrote to you. Please pass it on. — LIZ

Dear Liz: The experts tell us that dreams are often triggered by a noise or because one person's sleep is disturbed by his partner. The fact that twin beds helped solve your mother's problem supports this theory. Consider the word passed — and I hope it helps.

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a boss's wife who volunteers to do club work and then hands the job over to her husband's secretary?

I have served on numerous committees as a volunteer. I've written hundreds of letters on my own typewriter, and used my own stationery and stamps. I've made dozens of telephone calls on my own time because I wanted to make a personal contribution to the cause I believe in.

Don't you feel it is fraudulent to accept a job and then turn it over to someone else? — HORSE BEHIND THE SCENE

Dear Horse: Are you doing Madam's club work on your boss's time? If so, (and nothing in your letter indicates otherwise) your complaint is not justifiable. Mrs. Doe makes a contribution by volunteering to do a job even though her husband is paying to get it done. Obviously, Mrs. Doe will not experience the satisfaction of doing it herself but presumably this does not matter to her.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 20 years old, a high school graduate and I have one more year of Navy duty.

I went steady before I joined up. Mae and I were both in high school. She told me I was the first boy she had ever been intimate with but I never believed her.

I haven't seen Mae for over a year. She didn't write for a long time, then six weeks ago I got eight letters from her all at once. She is pregnant and wants me to marry her by mail so the baby will have a name. This baby can't be mine and we both know it. Mae says since I am the guy who started her on sex I owe her marriage. She says we can get divorced later if I want to.

My folks know about this and have told me to make my own decision. I need your help. — SAILOR AT SEA IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE

Dear Sailor: You need this marriage like you need a hole in your hull. The word from here is no, no, no!

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Approximately 150 parents and teachers were present. Mrs. Josephine Jones' fourth grade won the room count with 17 parents present.

Cake and coffee were enjoyed by all following adjournment

Local Civics Club Receives Charter

The Live Wires Civics Club of Mother of Good Counsel School this week received its official charter from the Commission on American Citizenship in Washington, D. C.

The Charter formally recognizes affiliations of the local unit with the national organization at The Catholic University of America. Pupils of Grades 5 thru 8 comprise the local Club membership.

The officers of the newly organized Club are: Kay Lee Del Pont, president; Monica Anne Spare, vice-president; Elizabeth Anne Turk, recording secretary; James William Boone, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms.

Live Wires Civics Club is one of the thousands of Catholic Civics Clubs chartered in the United States for the express purpose of developing informed, responsible, young citizens.

The theme of this year's program is "Building the American Dream." Club members get help in developing this theme from Young Catholic Messenger, national current-affairs weekly for students in grades 6-9. Monthly articles in the periodical point up the fundamentals of good citizenship and suggest practical projects for the club members.

Robinson-Madden Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Robinson of Cedar Street announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Ray Madden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Madden of Walkertown on November 5 at 3:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Clintwood, Virginia. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Breder.

Mrs. Madden is City Treasurer of the City of Hazard and Mr. Madden is employed at the U. S. Army Armor Center, Kings Mills, Ohio.

Sorority Members Discuss Speech

Mrs. Toufeek Shaheen and Mrs. Jack West were hostesses to the November 1 meeting of the Alpha Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Geneva Mansfield and Mrs. Don Compton were in charge of the program, "Speech". A special roll call was answered by each member reading a quotation after being reminded to "let the words and the expression of the speaker be the finest possible".

Examples of a good and bad conversation were demonstrated. Mrs. Geneva Mansfield and Miss Betty Jean McIntosh told Mrs. Bill Fouts about their recent trip to New York as an example of polite and entertaining conversation during which each person listened and responded to the others without monopolizing the conversation.

Mrs. John Quillen, Mrs. Jack West, Mrs. Joseph Castagnaro, and Mrs. Don Compton demonstrated a conversation over the bridge table with each member eager to gossip and interrupt the others with her own information disregarding all rules of conversational etiquette.

All sorority members then participated in a discussion of such questions as: "What is a bore? Why are religion, politics and personalities not in good taste in conversation? When does wit and humor offend? What place has gossip in conversation?"

Mrs. Mansfield closed the program by reading a short essay "The Art of Words".

Members present were: Mrs. Jack Fitz, Mrs. Herb Charles, Mrs. Rita Campbell, Mrs. George Kawaja, Mrs. John Quillen, Mrs. Toufeek Shaheen, Mrs. George Vaughn, Mrs. Jack West, Mrs. Hoover Haynes, Mrs. Charles Simpson, Mrs. Wilson Francis, Mrs. Jasper Smith, Mrs. Bud Igo, Mrs. Joseph Castagnaro, Mrs. Floyd Hall, Mrs. Glen Combs, Mrs. Geneva Mansfield,

Dilce Combs Stops Cordia Lions 64-55

Charles Minks Racks Up 31
As Panthers Capture 2nd Win

Charles Minks pumped in 31 points and Carlson Lewis controlled the backboards with 18 rebounds as Dilce Combs outfoight a determined Cordia five 64-55 Tuesday night at Memorial Gymnasium.

George Cornett's little, but scrappy, Lions gave Dilce Combs all they wanted and more for three quarters before the taller Panthers began pulling away late in the contest.

Once again it was the deadly marksmanship of Minks which enabled the Panthers to remain undefeated in two games. Minks, held under control by Cordia's scrappy defense in the first half, pulled out all stops in the second half along with senior center Carlson Lewis to give the Panthers the win.

Cordia's Curt Cornett put on quite a performance for basketball fans with twenty-five and thirty foot jump shots that touched nothing but nylons. He finished the night with 15 points with 12 of the markers coming on the outside jumpers.

Helping Lewis on the backboards was 6-4 Eddie Campbell who turned in his second straight game in double figures on the rebounding charts. Campbell managed 14 grabs against Cordia.

Lewis connected on a turnaround jumper in the early seconds of the contest for a 2-0 Dilce Combs lead, but apparently the two-pointer brought life to Cordia instead of the Panthers.

Cordia's Lions came roaring back with six straight points and had the Panthers down 6-2 before Coach Harvey Combs' boys could flicker an eye.

Cordia managed to stay ahead with its half-court press for the first eight minutes as the Lions commanded a 13-10 lead entering the second frame.

Dilce's big men came back in the second period with some good shooting and powerful rebounding, only to have the smaller Lions to steal numerous passes. At halftime, the Panthers held a 23-26 margin.

Minks' shooting along with Lewis' rebounding in the final minutes of the game proved to be the difference as Combs squashed out the victory 64-55.

Dilce Combs tackles Owsley County Friday night at Booneville in the Panthers' third contest of the season. Following the Owsley County contest, the Panthers will be open until next Friday and Saturday when the Jeff club participates in the Perry County Invitational Tournament at Leatherwood.

Leatherwood Tourney Next Week

The sixth annual Leatherwood Pre-Seasonal Tournament will be held at Leatherwood next Friday and Saturday, November 19 and 20 with Letcher County, Dilce Combs, Buckhorn and host Leatherwood participating.

In the opening game, Leatherwood will meet Letcher County at 6:30 p.m. with Dilce Combs and Buckhorn colliding at 8 p.m.

The two Friday losers will meet in the consolation contest at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday night with the championship battle carded for 8 p.m. the same night.

For the first time since the tourney was inaugurated in 1960, the M. C. Napier Navajos will not be in the four-team tournament. Napier, winner of the pre-season meet the past three years, was not invited back to defend its crown this year.

Only one other team has won the tourney. Dilce Combs captured the November event the first two years, then Napier the following three times.

Cordia Plays Outside

Sports in Eastern Kentucky will be one word "basketball" for the next five months as for as the 14th Region is concerned as only one school in the initial region is still playing on the gridiron.

Fleming-Neon, the lone school, meets Lynch in Class A Play Offs this weekend while all other schools head for the inside. All except one maybe.

One school in this area like basketball so well that it will even go to the outside to play. Cordia beat Kingdom Come in the Lions' opening game of the season on an outside court at Cordia and beat Kingdom Come on October 22.

George Cornett's Cordia five has never been noted as a supreme power in the state, but Cornett manages to come up with a hustling team every year and knock off a couple of upsets. And it wouldn't surprise me to see the Lions upset a couple of teams this year to keep the string going.

Bulldogs May Have 3 All-Staters

Although the Hazard Bulldogs just concluded the 1965 football season last week, heavy plans are already in progress for the upcoming basketball season.

Coach Roscoe Shackelford is putting his boys through full drills while preparing for the Bulldogs' opener against Buckhorn on November 30.

Heading what would be a "dream team" for any high school basketball coach this year at Hazard will be Chester and Jimmy Rose, Freddy and Houston Hogg and Jim Smith.

If the Bulldogs set their goal for the state championship, I doubt if Wesley Unseld and company at the University of Louisville, alma mater of Coach Shackelford, could stop Hazard. They have got that type of material. But as in the past, material is not all that counts.

Hazard could easily place three boys on the All-State team this year. Both Rose boys and Freddy Hogg can make the squad if the Bulldogs complete a good season. And with the opponents on the Bulldog schedule, if Hazard completes a fine season, they'll well deserve the recognition.

Annville Tops Buckhorn 77-55 Tuesday Night

Winfred "Chubby" Smith's Buckhorn Wildcats suffered their second straight setback of the season Tuesday night when Annville downed the Wildcats 77-55 at Annville.

Buckhorn got a brilliant 27-point performance from senior forward-center Freddie Merrill, but a balanced Annville attack proved to be too much.

Annville grabbed an 18-10 first quarter lead and rocked the Wildcats out of the gym in the second quarter when the home club outscored Buckhorn 26-12 and captured a 44-22 margin at halftime.

Annville coasted during the second half and ended with a 77-55 victory.

Bronson Noble gathered 11 points and Danny Combs scored 11 points for Smith's Wildcats.

Bowling led all scorers for Annville with 25 points followed by Wooton with 18 points.

Buckhorn metts the M. C. Napier Navajos Friday night at Memorial Gymnasium in its next game.

At Annville (77)—Hundley 9, Brown 4, Moore 11, Bowling 25, McDowell 2, Wooton 18, Bowling 8.

Buckhorn (55)—Noble 11, Patton 2, Merrill 27, Stamper 2, Combs 11, Baker 2.

Smith Expects Fast Break; Combs Saying Nothing

By Arlis Fields

After tomorrow night area basketball fans will find out why M. C. Napier cage coach Albert Combs is keeping silent about his group of hoopsters.

The Navajos will open their 1965-66 season in Memorial Gym at 8 p.m. against the Buckhorn Wildcats of rookie coach "Chubby" Smith.

Buckhorn has already had its first taste of game firing, losing to Dilce Combs 70-59 last Friday night.

Smith got a good performance out of 6-4 senior Freddy Merrill against the Panthers but is expected to make one change for Friday.

Joe Duff, 6-3 sophomore, is expected to take over for Merrill at center. Merrill will move to a forward and join Bronson Noble, 6-1 junior, at the corner spot.

Going at guards for Buckhorn will probably be seniors Danny Combs, 5-9 and Clarence Baker, 5-11.

When asked what he expected from Napier Smith had this reply, "I'm looking for a fast break and a man to man defense."

As for the Navajos there has been no official word on their starting five but a good second guess would see Charles Hoskins, 6-2 junior, at center, Darrell Fugate, 6-2, junior and Glennis Combs, 6-2 senior, at the forwards with Brack Baker, 6-1 senior and Eddie Combs, 5-11 senior at guards.

Cordia has remained silent all during pre-season practice as to what to expect from his charges but word has come from other sources that the Redskins could be a big surprise, 14th region wise.

In an interview late yesterday afternoon Napier's mentor still would say nothing about what kind of team he will have this year, other than, "we will have five boys playing together instead of five individualists."

Napier will not rest after the Buckhorn affair, on Saturday night the Lee County Bobcats will be here for a contest.

Lee County is under a new coach in Heber Dunaway, who succeeded Harold Flynn just before the school year started.

The Bobcats are headed by Mitchell Stamper, 6-1 senior forward, who was chosen for all-district honors last year. After Lee County the Navajos will be back in action against Cordia on November 16.

Nickname—Navajos
Last Year's Record—15-8
Coach's Record—95-55
Cheerleaders—Yvonne Butler, Mattie McIntosh, Goldie Campbell, Audrey Mastin, Paula Depont, Peggy King.

TO THE VOTERS OF PERRY COUNTY:

I would like to express my appreciation to all who helped me in my candidacy for re-election to the office of Magistrate, District 4. Although defeated, I am indeed thankful that I do have so many true and loyal friends in Perry County.

My special thanks are extended to those who worked so hard for me before and during the election.

Again thanks for your support.

Sincerely,

BUCKHORN

Buckhorn Rescue Unit Receives New Ambulance And Fire Dept.

by Betty Amis

Thanks to the many people who helped make this possible through their donations.

On October 20, two men from the B.F.D. & E. U. went to Lexington and purchased a 1956 Cadillac ambulance with the donations we had and a loan from a friend, until after the box supper. At the box supper they made $427.98. The friend was paid back, the ambulance was paid for, and we were left with $200.00 toward the fire truck we have located.

The B. F. D. & E. U. would like to thank those who helped with the box supper for their support in helping to make it a success.

The Buckhorn Fire Department had their first call October 31, at 9:30 p.m. Some Halloween pranksters had put some old car tires in the middle of the road on a bad curve and had set fire to them. The call came to Assistant Fire Chief Dan Amis. He called two firemen, Russell Brown, and Larry Brown. Captain Ernest Sandlin joined them. They raked gravel over the fire and carried water in a bucket from the creek to put out the fire. This could have been dangerous to a motorist, or it could have started a forest fire since the leaves are falling and are so dry. The Fire Dept. urges everyone to please be careful with fire.

Buckhorn is trying to organize a Girl Scout Troop. Ann Gray, Special Field Advisor to the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council, held a meeting here at Buckhorn, October 25, to discuss the possibility of Girl

Scouting. Eight ladies were present. On November 17, at 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. class in training will be for leaders and helpers for Girl Scouts. Sixteen hours of classes are required. The classes will be held in the Community House from 6:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. on November 17, December 1, December 8, and December 9. The last four hours will be in April when the weather permits planning and having a cook-out. Anyone interested, please come to the classes. They are free and Ann Gray will be one of the instructors.

Hoskins Family Moves From Busy

By W. R. Williston

Attendance at the Christian Church and Sunday School this Sunday was twenty-four; the offering amounted to $11.97.

Our visitors Sunday evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Maggard, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Campbell of Yerkes, and Sarah Jane Hoskins. We were sure glad to have them.

We also had service for Aunt Serena Fields this evening. She does enjoy service so much. Arthur Hoskins moved from this community one day this past week but we didn't learn where he moved.

National Jaycee Group Endorses Viet Nam Policy

According to Harold H. Hudson, Hazard Jaycee, who is a national director of the Kentucky Jaycees, the 260,000 member National Jaycee group has endorsed a Stay Tough Policy by the United States in the Viet Nam crisis.

James A. Skidmore, President of the U. S. Jaycees, reported to President Johnson that the Young Men's Civic Group endorsed the policy of the United States through a recently completed referendum vote of the Jaycees' 5,700 chapters in the 50 states and the District of Columbia. The 33 year old leader of the Jaycees told the president that the Jaycees took this stand because they realize that "To achieve victory over Communist Aggression, forces as well as diplomatic resources are often necessary".

The National Jaycees were the first organization to give full endorsement to the peace time draft in 1940.

"Now as in 1940, we do not find it easy to enter into conflict. We fear war more than anyone, for it directly affects the lives of our members, the young men of America," said the Jaycees president.

"More than 92 per cent of our members are veterans and young men who will be called upon to defend their nation," added Skidmore. "Our referendum pointed out that responsible action in Viet Nam using military forces, diplomatic and all other public and private resources to protect these principles is for all freedom loving people." Skidmore added, "As long as there are men who hate and destroy, this nation must continue to have the courage to resist or all that we have built and stood for will crumble."

Selective Service Announces Call

Local Board No. 81 of the Selective Service System has announced its draft call for the month of November.

This month's call is the lightest since President Johnson announced the buildup in U. S. manpower caused by the Viet Nam situation.

Call for induction on November 18 are: Joe Bernard Pratt, James Logan Cole, Denny Colyer Jr., and Leon Porter, transferred from Jeffersonville, Ind.

Ordered to report on the same day for the pre-induction physical examination are: Bobby Howard Baker, Patrick Henry Davidson, Willard Morris, James Monroe Radford, Paul Marshall, David Crit Baily, Frank Williams, Girdley Colledge Baker, Charles Edward Watts, Lloyd Dunaway, William McKinley Adams Jr., Curtis Herbert Higgins, Webster Hurley Jr., James Everett Kelly, Paul Hoskins Jr., Robert Gary Byrge, and John Centers.

Put an Electric Heat Pump in your plans!

That new home you're planning to build may well be the biggest investment you and your family will ever make. That's why you should be sure it's equipped with automatic heating and cooling through a flameless electric heat pump.

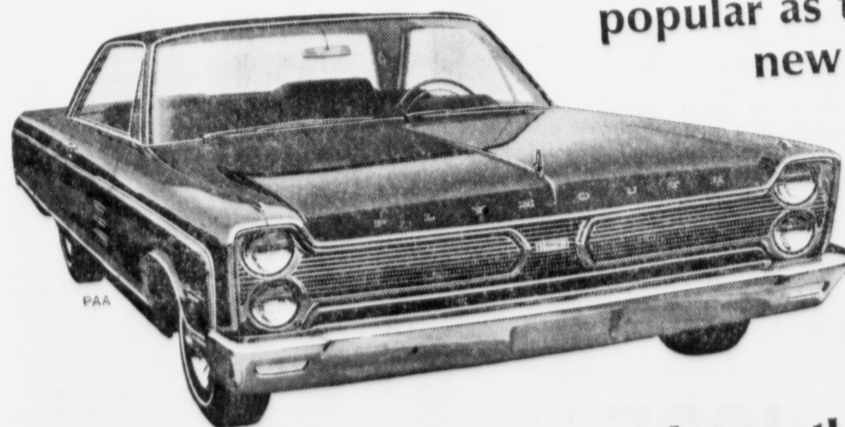

There's nothing more modern. An electric heat pump creates a constant indoor climate... maintains the precise temperatures you desire all year around. It filters the air you breathe, too, and during hot, humid months removes excess moisture.

We call the total result Comfort Conditioning—year around indoor springtime electrically. And, a heat pump will help protect your new home investment by keeping it modern for years to come. Put a flameless heat pump in your plans. You'll find it's economical to install and operate. For complete details, stop by or call our nearest office.

Our Area Schools

A new spark has been ignited and there may be new hope for the children of Perry County to get a better elementary and secondary education from our local schools.

One of, if not, the major obstacles in the path of our youngsters receiving a sound education has been illiteracy of the parents and politicians in Eastern Kentucky.

For years politicians in this area have used our children to gain individual prestige. School board members would hire his kin folks at the better schools in the county regardless of the education they have acquired to teach. Qualified teachers would be sent to the worst locations in an attempt to make them resign.

At last Saturday's board meeting in Hazard board member George Caudill crossed over his customary side and voted on an issue with Dacker Combs and Paul Campbell.

The issue concerned the building of a fence around the Dennis Wooten Elementary School at the Airport Gardens. Combs made a motion that the board postpone the construction of the fence until some rest rooms were built at some county schools, notably Cornett Hill.

In the past Caudill would have gone along with board chairman J. R. Hurt and Hensley Sparks. But this time Caudill voted to go along with Combs and Campbell, who also voted yes. Hurt voted no. Mr. Sparks, the fifth member, did not attend the meeting because of an illness.

This by no means is the end of arbitrary debate among the school board members but it is a good omen to bring forth.

If our school board can quit fighting each other and work together as "one sound government," then our schools may have a chance to give our future leaders of America the education which is necessary to compete in this fast-moving push-button world.

By working together, we can obtain such adequate facilities as gymnasiums, auditoriums, and last, but not least, an education to develop Eastern Kentucky into a wealthy tourist resort area.

The objective of this editorial is not that any one person or persons were right on voting yes or no, but the fact that each member voted for what he thought was right. If each member will vote what his conscience tells him is right in the future, then the Perry County School System will continue to climb upward on the ladder of success.

Stream Pollution

Radical problems call for radical solutions. And who can deny that the North Fork of the Kentucky River—the notorious running sewer of the mountains—is a radical problem? The excellent story and pictures in the Courier-Journal magazine section a few weeks back illustrated our river pollution problem most clearly.

But we who live here on the river did not need such an article to convince us of the problem.

All we have to do is look out the window, or down from our cars every time we cross a bridge.

No fish. No children in swimming. Not even swimming holes any more. Just trash and filth, cans, bottles, cartons, boxes, coal residue. And even where none of this is visible, even in those rare places where water covers and collected trash, the prospect is not inviting, because the image of germ-infested water is so strong in our minds that even clear water looks hostile.

Okay, so we realize the problem. What next?

Ask that question of a government agency and it will likely reply that a study is necessary, a two-year survey of causes, etc., and another year for planning how to correct the situation.

The long and agonizing delays between recognizing a problem and getting at the work of solving it is one reason our problem in Eastern Kentucky has accumulated.

Like we said, radical problems demand radical solutions.

Here is one radical suggestion that won't require three years of survey to implement. All it needs is energy and a willingness to dare to be imaginative.

Mobilize a force of 100 unemployed fathers in Letcher County and equip them with all manner of tools and protective gear.

Transport them to the very source of the Kentucky River, on Pine Mountain, and have them set to work, cleaning out that narrow head-water by hand. Literally.

They should be able to go half a mile a day, but if only a 100 yards a day, that's all right. It's better than nothing.

Arm them with the necessary legalities, and have them tear down every outhouse and other source of pollution in what might be described as the river right-of-way.

Every time they come to a community sewer that empties into the river, have the men rip it out or stop it up, and let the community find someplace better to put its filth.

As the work force makes its way downstream and comes to a wider river basin, supplement their efforts with heavy machinery, on loan from State agencies like the Highway Department and the Vocational School.

Pick up and carry away everything that is not native to the stream.

When the Letcher County crew gets to the county line, a similar force from Perry County should meet it, or perhaps join it, to continue the cleaning on down the river to Beattyville. Do that on all three forks of the Kentucky River.

Once cleaned, the courts should then automatically, in every case, resort to the maximum penalties available under the law when someone is convicted of stream pollution, including jail terms.

Sound fantastic? Perhaps. But we've got a fantastic problem on our hands, whether the general public realizes it or not.

We're living in the midst of filth. A whole stream of it flows through our communities every day.

Most people think it is probably impossible for us local citizens to clean up our river, virtually by hand, and that anybody who suggests it is a crackpot.

Maybe so. But then nobody thought we could cart off 800 old car bodies from the roadsides, either.

Public Opinion

This is American Education Week, and, all across our country citizens are discussing, evaluating and promoting education. At this time it is fitting to pay tribute to some outstanding educators in our midst.

Mr. W. W. Reeves for many years was chairman of the Hazard Board of Education. During these years he gave unselfishly of his time and ability to advance the course of education in our community. Teachers have long recognized his great service to education and at this time we would like to remind every citizen of his contribution to the high standards of the Hazard City Schools. We appreciate the dedicated services of Mr. Reeves.

Mrs. Emma B. Ross, now retired and living here in Hazard, was for many years a teacher in our high school. Throughout the years many students have been inspired by her unusual ability as a teacher. Her students are a living monument to her dedication to teaching. Today we salute a great teacher—Mrs. Ross.

Mr. Roy G. Eversole, Supt. of Hazard City Schools is recognized all across the state of Kentucky as an "outstanding educator." He spends many long hours at his desk working on problems of modern education. He is well aware of new invention today and keeps his staff well informed.

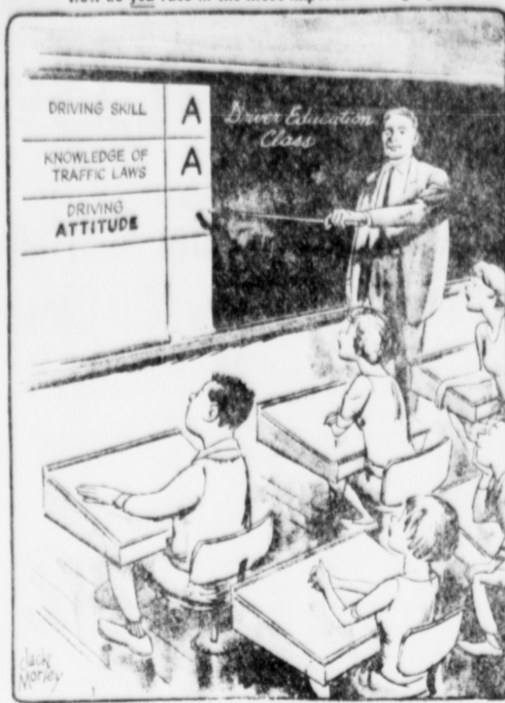

Although his schedule is very demanding, he always takes time to sit down and discuss any problem a teacher may have. Needless to say, he is very dear to the hearts of his entire staff. We wish Mr. Eversole many many more years of service with us.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Demonstrations

We note that President Johnson is very much incensed over the demonstrations in California, protesting the American participation in the War in South Viet Nam.

Well, if I remember aright, we did not have these demonstrations and remonstrances to amount to anything until after Mr. Johnson assumed his duties as President. And as I remember it he rather encouraged and supported the demonstrations in Alabama, and particularly the march from Selma to Montgomery. Now the shoe is on the other foot.

It has become quite customary for any certain class who want anything to get together and go in a body and march and demand it. This does not portend any good for the future of our present form of government. If demonstrations are in order now, then why should young American boys be condemned for protesting a course of action which might cause them to be drafted into military service and sent to fight on some foreign soil?

If we should win the war in South Viet Nam we would still lose, because if we should withdraw then it would start all over again and we can not afford to keep a large military force there indefinitely to prevent its recurrence. After all we should recognize the right to select and have their own form of government.

The President says that the American people support his action. It may be true that the liberal democrats and liberal republicans do support it, including Eisenhower, who made the commitments which now give us an excuse to be there, and Vice President Nixon, Governor Scranton, John Sherman Cooper and others, but if we take time to investigate we find that a large majority of the ordinary thinking people in the United States oppose it, but they are not in a position to do anything about it.

—Sam Ward.

Ward Expresses Thanks

Editor, Hazard Herald:
Hazard, Ky.

As a Kentuckian with the keenest appreciation of the necessity of a good highway program to enable our state to make the kind of progress that you and I know it needs to make, I want to express on behalf of the Department of Highways for your great service in behalf of passage of the bond issue at the November 2nd election.

I consider that the victory for the bond issue represented an endorsement of efforts that you and many other good citizens made. As Commissioner of Highways, I look upon it as a mandate from the people to go ahead with the highway program in accordance with the determination that I have expressed for the past 5 years and see to it that the taxpayers get the best possible administration of each dollar that is spent by the Department.

Again, I want to say thanks on behalf of all of the people of Kentucky for your fine efforts in this vitally important program.

Yours very truly,
Henry Ward
Commissioner

ODE TO AN OLD FRIEND

Yes, he's gone
That dear old friend of mine,
He's wandered to that Golden Shore
In that Majestic City so fine,
I shall not grieve for him today
He wouldn't want me to
He'd rather I'd just remember
Our friendship these long years 'thru.
So, as I think of him today
And the place where he has trod
I can't help but think he's happy
Walking around up there with God.
I can just see him now
Walking round the Promised Land
With that hat on his old gray head
And that Beloved Pipe in his hand.
Lord, down here he was a lawyer
A right good one I'd declare
So turn him loose and let him advise
All the Angels around him there.
Give him a big easy chair
And a desk all trimmed with gold
And please don't forget his lawbooks
And a pipe that he can hold.
Then, I know he'll be happy
And will be right to home up there
He worked so long down here, Lord
Now he can rest; he won't have a care.
So long old friend of many years
I bid you a fond adieu
Rest in peace, dear friend SCOTT
No one deserves a rest more than you.
—IDA LEE HANSEL.

Folks now that the election is over, let's all bury the hatchet of who won or lost. Let's all work together for a common cause that will benefit our area. Forget whatever Political Party you belong to, now is the time for unity of all our peoples under various programs that have been set up by FEDERAL AND STATE PROGRAMS, yes to help the economic situation in EASTERN KY.

IT HAS BEEN STATED

Time and time again, that there was more meetings held in Hazard in regard to planning and research, this I can recall since the 1927 Flood. Not only on flood control, but almost on any subject you might name. To me planning and research is fine, we need it. Do we need it year after year with out any action. Here we will soon be entering into 1966 with out any flood control to this date except on paper. To you the newly elected Officers of this County, I for one would like to see you pledge your tenure of office to just more than carrying out the regular duties of what is required of you. If we are to become a County and City we all must work together to obtain the things that could be made available to us. I feel that the planning and promise stages should have been over a long time ago. Now is the time for action.

I QUOTE FROM

A statement made by Mr. Ernest Swift, President of the National Wildlife Federation: "More Study and Research can be likened to a pole with a street light atop; it can be used for illumination, or something simply to lean against. More "study" is one of the oldest of dodges in the handling of Public Issues. A study can go into infinity without conclusion or any action being taken. People who demand action are forced to fight straw men until the study is concluded, and it is seldom concluded. To me no truer words were ever spoken than what Mr. Swift stated. If we, the people, and our elected officers doesn't look forward to a scope beyond of our present day living, or a look to the future for the generations that are following in our footsteps, we can't be content to what you now have and hold, you as the elected officials of this area will have to arise to take advantages of what will be offered for our people, use them wisely, without prejudice, for the benefits of all concerned. We have been in an enlightened age for some time. Let's not continue to retard our area for selfish reasons. Let's all take advantages of what might come our way.

WE WHO HAVE ATTENDED

So many meetings, let's analyze what has been done, let's put something into effect. Let's get off the leaning pole, let's light it up. Remember this is a job for all of us. Let's get away from promises, let's have some action, remember it must come from all. No one man can do it or no one party can accomplish this it must be a LOT OF PRIDE SHOWN BY ALL. Other areas have done it here in Eastern Ky. Lets prove our selves here on the North Fork of the Ky. River, The Middle Fork, The South Fork. We are in the head waters section that supplies water to our friends below. Lets start thinking of our water problems now, few years from now will be to late, this not only pertains to us in the valleys of Eastern Ky., remember it has a vital bearing on all peoples, cities that use water from the Ky. River and its tributaries.

WEEKLY DISCUSSION OF STATE GOVERNMENT

Agree Or Not

I Say What I Think

By S. C. VAN CUBON

By S. C. Van Curon

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The overwhelming Republican victory in Louisville and Jefferson County last Tuesday should be the warning flare to the Democratic Party in Kentucky about the gubernatorial race in 1967.

If the Republicans have been entertaining doubt about their selection for a standard bearer, the unprecedented margin rolled up by County Judge Marlow Cook should remove all doubt.

The 50,000-plus majority he received over the Democratic candidates sets him apart as the brightest political star in Kentucky in this century. Not only that, but he helped Republican Kenneth Schmeider plaster Democrat Marlin Volz for the mayorsip by an almost record margin.

Prematurely Gray Cook at 39 exudes personality that captivates an audience and makes a deep impression. Not by appearance alone, but because he backs it up with facts and a line of thought that breeds confidence between him and his audience. He's articulate, witty, knowledgeable and convincing.

The Democratic organization in Louisville and Jefferson County could be nothing but shambles after the thunderous victory Tuesday. After four years of drought in the Third District the Democrats face another four years of a worsening situation.

But the biggest trouble is that they must rebuild this organization in less than 18 months if the Democrats hope to recapture the largest voting congressional district in the state. That seems like an impossible situation since they have no jobs to pass out at the City or County level.

Cook was some short of President Lyndon B. Johnson's margin there last year, but this was an off election year and the federal machine could not be rolled into play. Cook's 50,000-plus majority stamps him as the man for the Democrats to beat for governor in 1967.

It is well here to look back at the figures of the 1963 gubernatorial race when Governor Edward T. Breathitt edged out Republican Louis B. Nunn by a scant 13,055 votes. Breathitt polled 449,551 statewide while Nunn was getting 435,496. Nunn's margin in Jefferson County was only 4,134.

Consider that Jefferson County accounted for a total of 184,858 votes in the 1963 race, or more than 20 per cent of the vote of the entire state, and anyone can readily see the problem the Democrats face in 1967.

Cook's victory heartens the Republicans and Republican Joe Johnson's victory in the county judge's race in Fayette County forges the axis between Kentucky's two most important cities upon which to build a machine for Republican victory in 1967.

Cook swept in his party, taking four Senate seats and 14 House seats in the General Assembly. This could be the real foundation upon which to build issues during the 1966 session for the 1967 campaign. The victory should make Cook's voice strong in Republican organization plans and strategy. The signs are all there of what the Democrats can expect.

Don't forget the national angle. Cook should attract plenty of support from National Republican Headquarters for the race in 1967, for 1968 is a presidential year, and Republican capture of the statehouse would build confidence for the presidential year.

There are plenty of attractive Republicans of the younger and more flexible breed that Cook could attract to a statewide ticket—Johnson, Circuit Judge Henry Meigs of Frankfort, Senator Donald Johnson of Alexandria, Clarence Miller of Shelbyville who was undersecretary of agriculture under President Eisenhower for 7 years; Nunn, and others to fill the elective offices of Kentucky.

Thus, the Democrats must exercise extreme care in selecting their ticket for 1967.

Thru the Years

Quotations from Herald stories of yesterday, reporting THIS WEEK in our history.

Probably the most important news item we have to offer for the current week is the purchase of an automobile by Mr. J. P. Warren. It is said that the machine is a Ford and will be here this week.

This is the first auto ever owned and operated by a Perry County man in Perry County, and if we read the signs right it will not be very long until our people will be familiar with the heretofore uncommon sight of a conveyance described by the China man: "No pushee, no pullee, but go like hellee allee samee."

We wish to congratulate Mr. Warren upon his investment for we believe it will be the starting point for better streets and better roads. Others will follow his lead and will get behind any movement looking toward the betterment of the streets and roads, with the result that it is entirely probable that the good road movement will be given an impetus that will not stop until a system of good pike roads are an actual fact.

Mr. Frank Horn is erecting a fine residence on the lot where Mr. C. M. Horn formerly lived on Broadway. This will be a decided improvement for that part of town. We would suggest to the new Council that they take steps to widen this street and lay concrete walks on either side.

1923

An important real estate deal was closed last week when the newly organized Christian Church bought a lot on Lytle Boulevard from A. B. Messer. The lot will be used for a church and parsonage to be erected in the near future. The property faces 150 feet on Lytle Boulevard and has a depth of 200 feet. It is considered one of the finest building lots in the city.

1935

Denver Miniard and Robert Tallent were winners of the two places on the Perry County Board of Education in the election of November 5. Miniard led the field of seventeen candidates with 1472 votes. Tallent received 1350.

There was spent for all purposes in the Hazard city schools last year $89,868.54. This includes $26,058.35 spent on the debt. This is a per capita cost of $35.95 for the enrollment.

Kentucky Gridders Invade Houston

According to a recent popular tune supposed to be a pleasant experience. The by Dean Martin, going to Houston use lyrics weren't written by Johnny Vaught.

The University of Houston Cougars showed Vaught's Mississippi Rebels a thing or two about Southern hospitality Saturday night, beating them 17-3 and complicating the plans of the Kentucky Wildcats.

Kentucky must play Houston this Saturday night in the famed Astrodome, and storm warnings are up for the Wildcats.

"We felt before the season began that Houston would have an excellent football team," says Kentucky coach Charlie Bradshaw. "They had some injuries and kind of lost their way for a few games, I think. But they proved Saturday night that they are everything we were afraid they would be. Ole Miss is a good football team, but Houston gave them a sound beating."

The Cougars, now 3-5 after two straight victories, boast a passing combination that's tough to stop in wingback Warren McVea and quarterback Bo Burris. Twice Saturday night McVea got behind the Ole Miss secondary, and twice they couldn't catch him. The 9.5 sprinter caught Burris passes for 80 and 84 yard touchdowns.

"This McVea is one of the finest sophomore backs in the country," Bradshaw says. "He has really come into his own in the past couple of games, and he's going to give our defense some tough problems. With his speed, he can get past you almost before you know he's coming."

The Wildcats go into the contest with a 6-2 record after last week's 24-0 victory over Vanderbilt's Commodores. Their attack will be paced, as usual by the passing and signal-calling of quarterback Rick Norton and the running of Rodger Bird and Larry Seiple.

Norton, who has a shot at all the Kentucky and Southeastern Conference single-season passing records, found the Vandy defense unprepared to stop the running game last week and unselfishly limited his passes while calling Bird's number 22 times. Norton hit 9 of 14 passes for 85 yards while Bird was gaining 133 yards and scoring four touchdowns.

The alert Kentucky defense, which intercepted three passes, recovered two fumbles and blocked a punt at Vandy, will also be a key to the Kentucky picture. After a mid-season lull, the defense has allowed just 18 points in the last three games.

"This is going to be a big game for us," Bradshaw says. "I know Houston has some momentum going, and they'd like nothing more than to beat a second straight SEC team. We'll have to be ready to play our best football if we're to keep them from doing it."

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. CST.

On The Lanes

By Gay Fugate

Tension is beginning to mount as we enter into the third week of the "Bowling of the Week" contest. Last week Freddie Combs bowling with the Nameless Five came through with a great series of 698 including handicap.

This week Dick Hyde bowling with Stewart's Construction is out in front with a 681 series which includes three great games of 180, 228 and 219. Dick has an 18 pin handicap.

On November 20 we will have a roll-off of the "Bowling of the Week" who have high series plus Handicap in league play for each week.

The "Bowling of the Month" will be awarded a beautiful sport coat by Mayor Dawahare on behalf of Dawahare's Department Store.

So, come on bowlers, let's all really do our best.

Our Halloween Sock-Hop was a huge success with all of the children really enjoying them-

TAKE YOUR FAMILY TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

5 EASY 5 HARD
by Henderson P. R. R.

1. What captain in David's army did David indirectly cause to be killed in order to cover up his OWN SIN in relation to this captain's wife?
2. What nationality was this man?
3. Which one of David's sons did God permit to construct the temple?
4. What neighboring king sent materials and craftsmen down to help in this great project?
5. In what city was it built?
6. When Adam was given the choice of obeying or disobeying God, did Adam "stand" or "fall"?
7. According to the PLAIN teachings of the Bible and our own personal experiences, how did you and I do when we reached the age of accountability in regard to this same test?
8. What man was born into the world who was able, somehow, to pass this test?
9. Did this man face the proposition one day as to whether he should use his extraordinary talents for his own pleasures or follow the hard path his Heavenly Father had laid out for him?
10. Was this man, who relied on God the Father as he lived out his life here on earth, really the Son of God, who had humbled Himself as a human in order that you and I might have eternal life?

LOST

The Hazard Herald has re-published a documentary of "Old Claib Jones". A famous 18th Century mountaineer. A great deal of Perry, Letcher and Knott County history of these areas is in the book. Anyone renewing or purchasing a subscription will receive a free copy of the publication or the book can be purchased for $1.00.

Perry County people should read their County Paper.

One Diamond ring with two large stones set in a twist and 18th Century mountaineer. A small stones on each side, lost on Main Street in Hazard, Wednesday, September 1. This ring is of great sentimental value since it was the last thing my husband bought for me before his death. There will be a $50.00 reward. Contact Mrs. Calvin Clemens, phone 6-4095, Airport Gardens, Ky.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS OF PERRY COUNTY

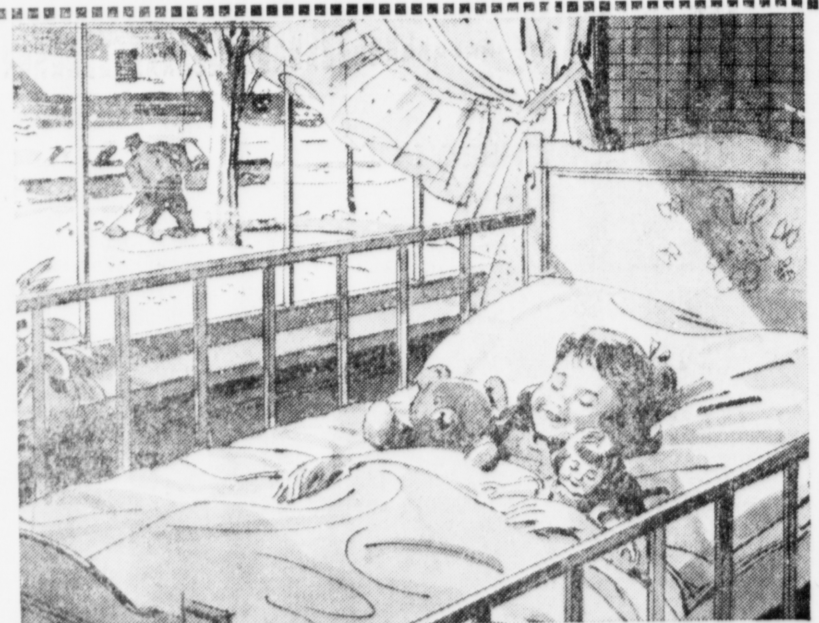

In a decision rendered June 8, 1965 the Kentucky Court of Appeals directed that all property in this Commonwealth be assessed at fair market value, effective January 1, 1966.

The Law also provides that all taxpayers come to the office of the Tax Commissioner and under oath list their property at Fair Market Value.

All property owners are hereby notified to come to the Tax Commissioner's Office at your earliest convenience and list your property as the law directs. Your failure to comply will result in the Tax Commissioner exercising his judgement in assessing your property at Fair Market Value.
